THANKSGIVING 1947 — Let Us Share With Those More Unfortunate Than Ourselves

We, the people of America, can give thanks every moment of our lives for the fact that ours is such a bountiful land. There may not be as much of everything as some of us might like — but just as that grand old bird, the turkey, has but two drumsticks, there's a limit in other things too. So we're practical, and substitute what there is plenty of to stretch what there's little of. And if we don't buy more than we need, or heap our plates with more food than we can comfortably eat, we can give thanks for this land's capacity to share with others. There may be times when we Americans may have to tighten our belts a notch — but let's remember there are still millions of our neighbors around the world who haven't a belt other than a piece of string to tighten. . . . who haven't had a full course meal in years!

Thanksgiving? We've every reason for it, so let's enjoy it to the full, and see to it that we give other folks a taste of it as long as they need turn to us for a friendly share of the things we have to spare.

As we Americans sit about the festive board on Thanksgiving Day we can give thanks for many things, for food, precious relationships, and possessions. But let us on this day rededicate ourselves to unstintingly striving to give all the people of all the world that liberty which is our greatest reason for Thanksgiving.

AROUND THE TOWN

Frederick J. Phillips is an example of hometown boy makes good. Born and raised in Fairport, he attended local schools, starred on the gridiron, court and diamond. After graduation he attended the R.B.I.

Young for a postmaster, he is not without experience, having been in military service nearly three years, twenty-one months of it spent overseas as Sergeant-Major of the Army Post Office 131. Prior to that he lugged the leather satchel on a local mail route.

Fred is married to a Rochester girl, the former Lillian Butz. They reside with their two children, Shari 4 and Gary 1, on Carter Rd. Here the Phillipses can indulge in their hobbies, poultry raising, gardening (both flowers and vegetable) and their love of horses.

Although most veterans chose one, Fred is a member of both the American Legion and the VFW, is a protective and a Rotarian, and attends St. Mary's Church.

Fred can take music or leave it alone. It can be swing or classical as both please his ear. He prefers the historical novel to fiction and would rather sit on watch for a chance at a deer than catch five pound small mouth although he likes both sports.

Being postmaster in times when Congress is cutting appropriations is no easy task but citizens have found that Phillips is master of his job and service his byword. Every suggestion and every protest is given his personal attention.

Among a great many other things Fred Phillips proves that if you want to do a good job it can be done. In fact Fred Phillips does such a good job that Republican Fairport is forced to forgive and forget that Fred like most postmasters, is a Democrat.

'Alaska in Color' At Gospel Center Tomorrow Evening

Just back from his second 15,000 mile missionary trip through Alaska during the past summer months, Rev. Gordon S. Anderson will present his new thrilling technical color film of "America's Scenic and Wild—Last Frontier" Friday evening, Nov. 21 at 7:45 o'clock in the Fairport Gospel Center.

REV. GORDON S. ANDERSON To Lecture on Alaska

These new films, filled with colorful scenic splendor and featuring outstanding experiences of the visiting lecturer and missionary, will include: Touring the "Old Oregon Trail across the Rocky Mountains to the northwest coast; sailing along America's northwest coast into Alaska's deep blue fjords; flying into Alaska's rugged interior; a visit to remote Indian villages amidst towering totem pole forests; trekking through the fertile Matanuska Valley and over the snowcapped Alaska range; climbing the great Worthington glacier; blazing trails to film Alaska's wildlife and big game — bears in action catching King Salmon in waterfalls; and spotting the wild moose.
 The public is urged to attend this inspiring and educational missionary lecture. There will be no admission charge, but a free will offering will be taken for the benefit of this Alaska mission.

the girls' choir on Tuesday at 4:14 p.m. and the senior choir on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The Scouts will meet in their room on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Baptist Choirs To Present Concert December 7

The choirs of First Baptist Church, Fairport, are preparing for another Christmas concert, to be given at 7 P.M. on Dec. 7.

Last year's concert was very favorably received and a repeat concert was given in Palmyra.

Mrs. Warren Hendricks, the choir director, is planning an interesting program and rehearsals have been started. There will be vocal and instrumental solos. The combined choirs (adult, junior, girls and boys) will take part, in addition to the male chorus of the church and a newly organized young people's choir.

Waxing linoleum counter tops, especially around the kitchen sink, will make them wear longer and look better.

Local Man Chosen To Represent His Alma Mater

Hal Scoby, W. Church St., plant manager of the American Can Co., has accepted appointment as the Union College alumni representative for Fairport area, according to J. Harold Ripton, director of admissions.

Scoby, who graduated from Union in the class of '17, will work with Mr. Ripton on a program designed to aid local students with their plans for a college career.

"About 150 alumni in localities throughout the state will serve as sub-freshman advisors this year," said Ripton, adding that although not all alumni advisors are in the field of education, all have a predominant interest in seeing that college applicants are well counseled.
 Scoby will be available to discuss college entrance problems with young men, and will explain the objectives and courses of study offered at Union College. The college accepted 289 freshmen this fall and is now accepting inquiries relative to the class of 1952.
